

WIFE BLAMED FOR DEATH OF MADERO

Mexican Government Says She Planned Rescue in Which Ex-President Died.

SONORA REVOLT GROWING

Rebels Encamped in Mountains Near American Border Prepare to Attack Town.

MEXICO CITY, March 9.—The Minister of War announced this afternoon that a rigid investigation is being made into the death of ex-President Francisco I. Madero and Pina Suarez, the former Vice-President. The inquiry, however, is being carried on secretly in order to avoid stirring up excitement. It has been established that Mrs. Madero knew that her husband was to be transferred to the penitentiary and that she warned the followers of the former President, who caused an armed band to attempt to rescue Madero. It was in this fight, the Minister says, that Madero and Suarez were killed.

It was reported to-night that Gen. Valenzuela has completely defeated Gov. Carranza in Anhuco. Heavy losses were sustained by the Federalists, but Carranza's troops were completely decimated and Carranza was compelled to retreat toward the north.

A new rebellion has been started in the district of Saltillo, in the State of Coahuila, where 300 Maderista volunteers, headed by Jefe Político Flores, have attacked the Federal forces. Gen. Huerta has been asked to send reinforcements. Telecaran, a town of 5,000 inhabitants, which is the home of many prominent Mexican families, has been terrorized by the revolutionists, who have carried off ten women members of aristocratic families.

El Paso, Tex., March 9.—Word was received here to-night that several hundred Mexican rebels are encamped in the mountains near Agua Prieta, across the line from Douglas, Ariz., and are preparing to make an attack upon the town. So serious is the situation that Gen. Ojeda, the Federal commander, has refused to send troops to aid the garrison at Nogales, Sonora, now besieged by the State troops.

Gen. Ojeda thinks he can defend the town against any assault, but is uncertain as to the exact strength of the enemy and wants to keep all the forces available.

Nacozari, another border town near Douglas, which was attacked by the rebels after most of the garrison had been withdrawn to Agua Prieta, is still in a state of siege. It was in the first days' fighting that Jack Williams, American manager of the Phelps-Dodge Company of New York, was wounded by flying bullets. The last word received from the town was flashed here late to-night by a telegraph operator. This was his message:

"It's too hot for me. I'm leaving it." Just before this word was received fighting in the center of the town had been reported, with the Federalists holding out against a superior force.

News of the attack on Cananea, a threatened by another rebel force and Col. Emilio Kosterlitzky, commander in Nogales, has appealed for help, but so far has had no reinforcements.

These State troops under Juan Cabral, a former Maderista Colonel, last night destroyed several bridges on the Southern Pacific line between Nogales and Cananea. Cananea is still held by Federalists, but the command is not over 200, although they are well fortified and have machine guns.

The banks at Nogales, Sonora, have sent most of their money across the line to Nogales, Ariz. All custom houses and other local records were brought to the American side last night.

Sonora is thoroughly aroused against Huerta, and from all over the State reports of bands of volunteers are being received. The Federalists are being driven out of Sonora, and they are against the present Government on the ground that it is illegal and usurping power.

They declare they will not send troops into other States but that they want to be left as an independent State until new elections are held, when they will settle for themselves whether they will again join the Federation of Mexican States.

REBELS ATTACK PARRAL.

Maderista Volunteers Repulsed With Heavy Losses.

MEXICO CITY, March 9.—News reached here to-day that 300 Maderista volunteers headed by Manuel Chazola attacked the city of Parral in this State yesterday and were repulsed with heavy losses by the Sixth Battalion of Federal troops commanded by Col. Salvador Mercado.

The volunteers crept up into the hills at night and at daybreak commenced a fusillade of rifle fire over the city. The Federal garrison responded in vigorous manner and slowly gained ground until the Maderistas had been driven from their positions.

Col. Mercado has asked for reinforcements to enable him to trail the Maderistas, who are reported to be the same band which entered and sacked the town of Santa Barbara, a short distance south of Parral several days ago.

A commission of the principal planters of Morelos visited the Minister of War to-day and offered 1,000 pesos daily for the maintenance of rebels who would surrender. They sought to enlist his help to pacify their district and to protect the cane and rice fields from bandits. The commission gave the Minister 15,000 pesos in cash and promised to keep the fund paid fifteen days in advance. It is thought this will go far toward the settlement of the question of how to dispose of the Zapatistas.

It is said a commission of planters from the State of Mexico are on the way to duplicate the offer of the Morelos planters.

PLAN FINAL SORTIE FROM ADRIANOPLE

Melting Snow Floods Entrenchments—Garrison in Bad Straits.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

LONDON, March 10.—A despatch from Constantinople via Kustendje says that Shukri Pasha, the commander of the Turkish garrison at Adrianople, has sent a wireless message to the effect that the melting snow has flooded part of the entrenchments. This and the increasing shortage of food and ammunition may compel the Turks to make a sortie.

A despatch from Athens says that the Greek cavalry captured 2,300 Turks who were trying to make their escape from Janina. The Greeks have occupied Paranythia and Margaritis.

GRECO BULGARIAN CLASHES.

Rivalry Between Races in Salonica Becoming Serious.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

SALONICA, March 9.—The rivalries between the Greeks and Bulgarians here and in this neighborhood continue to be very dangerous. There have been several serious incidents, among them a severe fight at Tsazeti in which many were wounded. There was a similar but less severe fight at Mounouchi.

BRYAN WARNS CUBA AGAIN.

Gomez, It Is Said, Will Deny He Signed Amnesty Bill.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

HAVANA, March 9.—The American legation sent another note to President Gomez from Secretary of State Bryan at 11 o'clock Saturday evening warning him against signing the amnesty bill. The Government and the legation refuse to divulge the contents of the note. The newspapers say that President Gomez in order to save his face will deny that he ever signed the amnesty bill, although the reporters were informed at the palace that it had been signed Friday.

The amnesty bill would free more than 3,000 persons, of whom hundreds are dishonest officials and common criminals. It seems almost certain that the amnesty bill will not go into effect.

FRENCH CROWD HOOTS JAURES.

Socialist Leader Who Opposes Big Army Howled Down.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

PARIS, March 9.—The Socialists, led by M. Jaures, tried to drown the voice of M. Etienne, Minister of War, in the Chamber of Deputies on March 6 when the military bill was before that body. President Deschanel said at the time: "Let them continue; the country will judge."

The country's first judgment was rendered at Nice yesterday. M. Jaures tried to deliver a lecture, but the audience would not allow him to proceed. It sang "Marseillaise" and other national songs until he was obliged to quit the hall. The demonstration was renewed later outside the hotel at which M. Jaures is stopping.

ROMANOFF CELEBRATION ENDS.

Grand Banquet Held; Czar and His Heir Toasted.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 9.—The celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Romanoff dynasty was concluded to-night with a grand banquet at the Winter Palace. All the members of the imperial family were present and there were numerous guests. The men were in uniform and the women wore the national Russian costume.

When the health of the Czar was drunk fifty-one guns were fired from the Petrovskiy fortress and thirty-one were fired in salute when the Czarevitch was toasted.

NEW GOLD FIELDS FOUND.

Immense Deposits Discovered 150 Miles From Calcutta.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

LONDON, March 10.—A despatch from Bombay to the Daily Chronicle says that an examination of the estate of Prince Mohammed Bektur Shah, who died recently, which covers 1,200 square miles of the Dalhousie district, 150 miles from Calcutta, has led to the discovery of immense deposits of iron, gold, copper and manganese.

Geologist Billingshurst of Vancouver B. C., who investigated the matter, is quoted as saying that the mines are auriferous quartz and will yield 130 ounces to the ton. He expresses the opinion that it will prove to be one of the world's greatest gold fields.

CARDINAL RESPICHI DYING.

POPE'S CONDITION SLIGHTLY IMPROVED

Pontiff Passes Indifferent Night and Complains of Sore Throat.

TEMPERATURE IS NORMAL

Sisters Again Visit Him and Find Him in Good Spirits.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

ROME, March 9.—The Pope is feeling better to-night. He had an indifferent night Saturday. His cough was troublesome and he was unable to go to sleep until 3 o'clock Sunday morning. Then he went to sleep and did not awake for four hours. He awoke greatly improved. The Pope during the day complained of a sore throat, which physicians attributed to inflammation of the tonsils in consequence of his catarrhal trouble.

The sisters and niece of the Pontiff visited him again to-day. They found that he was not depressed and ridiculed what they regarded as the useless precautions of the doctors, who, however, insist on a prolonged rest.

The Osservatore Romano made an announcement which Dr. Marchisava confirmed after a late visit to Pius X., that his temperature is normal, the sore throat is abating and that a good night is to be expected. Dr. Amici will not sleep at the Vatican to-night.

Nathan Straus has decided not to wait for the recovery of the Pope for an audience. He will start with his wife to-morrow for Rome, in the Austrian Tyrol. They hope on their return to obtain an audience with the Pope.

CUBAN RACING BILL UNSIGNED.

Gomez Said to Have Failed to Get Desired Sum.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

HAVANA, March 10.—President Gomez has not signed the bill granting racing and jai alai concessions. The United States had no objection to this bill and it was expected that the President would sign it last Thursday, but it seems that the concessionaire refused to give Gomez more than $50,000, whereas he demanded $200,000.

There was a violent quarrel over this matter on Friday night, after which the concessionaire, who is one of the most powerful and richest men here, swore that he would "get" Gomez.

COOPERATIVE STORE MAKES NEW RECORD

Montclair Shop First of Its Kind to Succeed in This Country.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

A little more than a year ago John Graham Brooks went out to Montclair and told a group of New Jersey folks that he belonged to the Men's Club of Albany, a lot of things about economics in general and the high cost of living in particular. His lecture set them thinking, notwithstanding the fact that not one of them is the sort of person who needs to worry about the price of his meal ticket. A few weeks later the club met again with half a dozen members prepared to give eight minute arguments for the establishment of a cooperative store.

Their arguments were so persuasive that before the meeting adjourned a committee was appointed to go ahead with the proposition, and to encourage them the others subscribed something more than $1,000 to capitalize their efforts. In May of last year the store opened with a capital stock of over $5,000 and the enthusiasm of 200 stockholders.

The result of this was that last Saturday night 314 members, all of whom have families, met at Unity Church and accepted from the board of directors a 5 per cent. rebate on the gross amount of their purchases in the last year. It is the first instance of a cooperative store in this country proving successful.

CASTRO DENIES EXPEDITION.

Ex-Dictator Won't Admit Designs on Venezuela.

Gen. Cipriano Castro, deposed dictator of Venezuela, emphatically denied yesterday a published report that he had offered the command of an expedition to Venezuela to Col. Edmund J. Frederick, former chief of artillery under Gen. Maximilian Gomez.

This statement was given out yesterday by the General's secretary, who said he had talked with his chief about the report in the afternoon.

"Castro asserted that he not only did not make such an offer but he does not even know Frederick," he said.

His secretary said Gen. Castro's plans are not settled, and he has not decided how long he will stay in New York.

MADEROS HAVE QUIET DAY.

Members of Family Already Here Postpone Their Conference.

The Madero family spent a quiet day yesterday and did not have the conference that it was said they intended to hold.

Several of the men lunched together at the Hotel Willard, where Francisco Madero, father of the late President, is staying. One of the callers was Senor Macias, a young Mexican residing in New York, who is a close friend of the family.

In the afternoon Ernesto Madero went to Fordham University and had an interview with one of its officials.

It was said at the Hotel Willard that Mrs. Francisco Madero, the former President's widow, is expected there by the end of this week.

GOULD DECISION UNANNOUNCED.

Duchess Has Heard Nothing From Papal Tribunal.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

PARIS, March 9.—The Duke de Talleyrand-Perigord, husband of the former Anna Gould, told the correspondent of The Sun to-night that as yet he had received no official notification of the recent decision of the Tribunal of the Rota annulling the marriage of his wife to Count Boni de Castellane. That is not surprising, however, as such judgments require a long time to be drawn up. The testimony before the first hearing before the Rota Tribunal occupied twenty-two pages.

The Duke added: "We are inquiring as to the non-delivery of a registered letter in which the Archbishop of Paris says a summons was sent to the Duchess for a hearing. The letter never reached her."

The woman whom, it is said, Count Boni is anxious to marry, Betka, the daughter of Prince and Princess Radziwill, is a girl of 19. Count Boni de Castellane is 41. The Prince and Princess Radziwill recently had an audience with the Pope and pleaded the cause of the Count.

MILITANTS RESCUED AGAIN FROM CROWD

London Police With Difficulty Save Women at Open Air Meetings.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

LONDON, March 9.—Suffragette meetings in different parts of London to-day were broken up by the crowds. The speakers in every instance were only saved from serious injury by the police, strong guards having been placed in the expectation of trouble.

The most serious trouble occurred at Hampstead Heath, where large crowds usually gather every Sunday. There the crowd pelted the women speakers with stones which were not "strictly fresh" and threatened to throw the women in a nearby pond. The police interfered and finally saved the women. Similar scenes occurred in Hyde Park and on Wimbledon Common.

While mobs were busy breaking up suffragette meetings in London the women struck another blow for "the cause," as they designate it, by burning the bowling club pavilion at Newcastle-on-Tyne.

Five thousand persons assembled in Hyde Park and when Mrs. Flora Drummond, "the general," attempted to speak they hooted and howled and tried to rush the platform. A big force of police escorted Mrs. Drummond out of the park.

As she was leaving under the protection of the police they shouted derisively: "That's it, cling to the men!"

The other women who attempted to speak were jeered and were only saved from violence by reinforcements of police.

At Wimbledon Common there were a hundred mounted and foot police and they were none too many to protect the women from the mob. Jers and howls made the words of the women inaudible and finally the crowd rushed the platform. The women fled to an adjoining house, which was soon surrounded by a howling mob. The police, however, saved the women from the wrath of the crowd.

POLICE CHIEF KILLED IN RAID.

Warrant Out for Man Accused of Keeping Daughter in Resort.

MCKEESPORT, Pa., March 9.—Acting Chief of Police George Etlinger was shot dead last night at the door of a disorderly house which he and three other officers were raiding.

Police, State troopers and detectives are searching for Noah Hough, a former policeman of McKeesport, who is believed to be hiding in an abandoned coal mine. A warrant had been sworn out for Hough's arrest on a charge of pandering, it being alleged that his sixteen-year-old daughter was being kept in the resort where the murder occurred.

Etlinger, after stationing his men around the house, knocked at the rear door. The door suddenly was thrown open and a bullet was fired into the chief's heart. The slayer escaped by the front door, the officers on guard there having run to the rear on hearing the shot.

SULZER CUTS OFF TWO HEADS.

Dudley Fleet and Leo Doran Out of Highway Department.

ALBANY, March 9.—Gov. Sulzer to-night ordered the removal of Dudley Fleet, confidential secretary to the Superintendent of Highways, and Leo Doran, assistant secretary.

The Governor put a watchman in the executive rooms of the Highway Department.

INJURED MAN'S CHUMS HELD.

Sheehan Was Running When Kohler Was Found in Street.

HAROLD KOHLER, 26 years old, who is in the rear of a business and lives at 160 West 15th street, was taken to the Poly-clinic Hospital at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning suffering from a supposed fracture of the skull. He was found lying on the sidewalk in front of Healy's restaurant at Columbus avenue and Sixty-sixth street by Policeman Thomas Ryan.

The policeman saw a young man running up Broadway and arrested him. His mouth and chin were bleeding. He said he was Alexander Sheehan, 27 years old, a builder living at 38 West Seventeenth street. He would give no further information.

The injured man had been taken into a nearby drugstore and thither the policeman took Sheehan. Magistrate Corrigan was in the store and he questioned Sheehan without success. Chester Christie of 177 West Ninety-fifth street was also in the drugstore and Magistrate Corrigan ordered him to take Sheehan to the station. They refused to say anything until they had consulted counsel.

Detective Mulligan learned that all three young men had been dining in Healy's and left the restaurant precipitately. There was some scuffling on the sidewalk and Kohler went down. The detective told this to Magistrate Harris in the West Side court later in the day when the prisoners were arraigned, with Forbes Hennessy as their counsel.

Charles Kohler, the father of the injured man, told Magistrate Harris he believed that neither Sheehan nor Christie had hit his son but that another man had done so. He said he was a college chum and had been good friends, the father said.

The hearing was set down for to-morrow and the prisoners were held in $1,000 bail each.

1560 Men's All-Silk Shirts

regular prices $5, $6 & $6.50 today $3.85

a sale in which we get the lion's share of the credit and you get the lion's share of the profit.

This is an unusual shirt sale, unusual not only in price but in the character of the merchandise. We had a similar sale exactly a year ago, but it was only similar and not at all the same. The price was the same, but the values were not. In other words, we have improved the values and maintained the price. In fact, we have never before announced a sale of silk shirts in which there was such a preponderance of value in your favor. And we have never before been able to assemble at $3.85 apiece even so small a number of silk shirts as this, in which the range of patterns was so consistently distinctive and so evenly distributed in all sizes. The only limitation in this offering is the number.

There is nothing about this sale to show that it is a sale—except $3.85.

In every respect these are $5, $6 and $6.50 silk shirts—in workmanship, in finish, in quality of fabric and in design of fabric. To say that they are beautiful is but to give them their due. They are the richest-looking silk shirts imaginable, and the richest actually. They are a joy to the eye, a comfort to the wearer and bargains on their best behavior. They are made of fine tub silks, that have body to them, and are not to be confused with those threadbare silks that go to the wash once and wilt forever thereafter. Russian cords of the finest sort, in bold, bright colors and in any number of smart and exclusive Spring designs, as well as plain white. The models are plain bosoms, and super-smart pleats that are the swellest thing in bosoms. Sizes 14 to 18. All sleeve lengths.

BODY IN A STRANGE FLAT PUZZLES POLICE

Found in Deserted Place to Which Furniture Man Was Sent.

The body of a man whose identity is not established was found late last night in the front room of a flat on the ground floor of 71 West 108th street, the occupants of which had been away for three days. He was not known in the apartment house and the cause of his death is a mystery. The body was found lying on a sofa. Indications were that the man had been dead for twenty-four hours.

Mrs. Catherine Collins, the janitress, passed by the apartment last night to put out the hall light, and looking through the open door of the flat saw a man and a woman standing inside. They were looking at the dead body and summoned Policeman Boller.

The janitress rushed to the corner of Columbus avenue and found Policeman Hodgins. He went to the flat and got this story from the man and the woman with the body. The man said he was Isidor Lewis, a furniture dealer, of 42 West 108th street. He said he met a stranger early in the afternoon who told him he might be able to get a lot of furniture cheaply at that address. He said a family had just been dispossessed, Lewis put off going till evening, and then went with his wife.

Policeman Hodgins called an ambulance and the doctor who arrived decided that the man had been dead for at least a day.

He was about 30 years old, was of dark complexion, sunken cheeks, had salt hair and eyes and wore a brown striped suit. In a book in his pocket was the name "Robert Brower, 428 West 147th street. In case of accident notify Mrs. Brower, same address."

There were no marks of violence on the body. There were indications that a drug had caused death, possibly the habitual use of a drug.

The apartment has been occupied by a John L. Fleming with his wife and a child. They have not been seen in the house since last Friday. None of the furniture has been removed.

Detective Donnelly said early this morning that on November 19 he had arrested Fleming and another man for being under the influence of a drug. The case is still pending.

It was Donnelly's opinion that the stranger in Fleming's flat had died from the effects of some drug.

The police went to 428 West 147th street early this morning and learned that Robert Brower was the dead man's name. He lived at that address with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brower, caretakers of a private house. They said he was an ironworker and had no bad habits. They had seen him last on Friday.

WILSON PROMISED RASHLY.

Said He'd Attend This Dinner if President, but Now He Can't.

MONTCLAIR, N. J., March 9.—A year ago, when Woodrow Wilson then Governor of New Jersey, spoke at the annual dinner of the Montclair Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, he was urged to speak at this year's dinner when, according to a prophet of the Friendly Sons, he "would be President of the United States."

Mr. Wilson smilingly said that he would attend the dinner if he were President. However, owing to President Wilson's announcement that he will not do any public speaking except on special occasions the Friendly Sons have abandoned hope of hearing him.
